

3rd Biennial Ingram Colloquium on
International Law and Development

UNSW
THE UNIVERSITY OF NEW SOUTH WALES
FACULTY OF LAW

The Challenge of Food Security

Faculty of Law, UNSW

Thursday 2 December 2010, 3pm - 7pm

At the 2009 World Summit on Food Security world leaders pledged renewed commitments to eradicate hunger by ensuring both sufficient production of and access to food for all of the world's rapidly increasing population. To that end they agreed to work to reverse the decline in agricultural investment, to improve governance of global food issues and to address the challenges of climate change to food security. The Colloquium will examine the roots of food insecurity, the mechanisms that are being adopted globally to achieve a food secure world, and the role that Australia can play in addressing the global food security challenge.

Speakers include:

Craig Pearson, Director, Melbourne Sustainable Society Institute, University of Melbourne

Margaret Young, Melbourne Law School, University of Melbourne

Michael Robinson, Chair, National Climate Change Research Strategy for Primary Industries and Director, Primary Industries and Climate Change, University of Melbourne and Victorian Department of Primary Industries

Nicola Colbran, Human rights consultant

Anagha Joshi, Office of International Law, Attorney-General's Department

Rocque Reynolds, Associate Professor, Faculty of Law, University of Technology Sydney

Bill Pritchard, Associate Professor, School of Geosciences, University of Sydney

George Zheng, Assistant Professor, Faculty of Law, University of Hong Kong

Rodrigo Sales, Research Fellow, Faculty of Law, University of New South Wales

The Ingram Colloquium provides an interdisciplinary forum for the exchange of ideas and to sharpen debate and enhance research on current issues of international law and development having special regard to the concerns of developing countries. The Colloquium is named after Mr James Ingram AO, former Australian diplomat and former Executive Director of the United Nations World Food Program.

The Colloquium is a joint initiative of the International Law and Policy Group and the Climate Change Law and Policy Initiative in the Faculty of Law, UNSW
